Given a set of points in the plane, find the minimum number of circles of fixed radius needed to cover all the points.

Given a set of points in the plane, find the minimum total area needed to cover them with rectangles whose sides are parallel to the axis

Find the area covered by a set of N circles.

Given a set of points in the plane, find "furthest" pair of points (this is: the two points whose distance is maximal).